Murray Mayor Dan Snarr says the new face-lift to the Fashion Place Mall will give some bragging rights by hosting world famous names in shopping.

On Friday, popular store names like Crate & Barrel and H&M, will make their Utah debut.

"The city is absolutely thrilled," says Snarr. He says that mall owner, General Growth Properties, went "where the big dollars are, and the dollars are here in Murray City with the Fashion Place Mall."

Snarr says the mall expansion that is bringing new stores, like H&H and Crate & Barrel, will bring even more money into the city of Murray.

The new stores open at 10 a.m. Friday morning, with the exception of H&M, which opens at noon. H&M's grand Utah opening is highly anticipated and mall management expects long lines. And because many more people are expected to travel to Murray, Snarr says two more hotels will open in the area soon.

H&M opened its first store in Denver Wednesday. It was reported 1,500 lined up, some camping overnight to be the first inside that store. At 11:30 p.m., on person will be chosen to go inside the new Fashion Place H&M and shop for a half hour alone.
